SENATE FILIBUSTER KILLING SHIP SUBSIDY

IN CRISIS HARDING APPEALED TO FOR AID, STOP DEADLOCK

SITUATION SEEMS COMPLETELY
IN HANDS OF THE FILIBUSTERS

IF PROBLEM IS NOT SOLVED, SESSION WILL DIE IN A TANGLE

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 21.—President Harding is to be appealed to today to stop the spectacular senate filibuster that is not only slowly strangling the ship subsidy, but is tying up much other important legislation. With the situation completely in the hands of the filibusters some administration senators plan to ask President Harding either to surrender on the ship subsidy and permit it to be dropped, or to whip the filibustering senators.

As most of these are democrats, however, Harding has about as much power over the filibusters as the wholly powerless administration leadership of the senate itself.

Either the administration must yield, the filibusters must be won over to some compromise, or the session will die in the worst tangle and jam in the last decade.

The decision to go to President Harding was reached last midnight after the session lasting 12½ hours, in which the filibusters demonstrated how complete was their grip on the situation.

They are not strong enough to outvote the administration forces, but they could tie their hands and this they did with comic regularity throughout the evening.

The recess was taken at 11:37 p. m. until 11 o'clock this morning to permit two measures to be taken. One was the appeal to Harding, the other an attempt to arrange a compromise.

Last night's recess ended a session thoroughly enjoyed by a big crowd in the galleries which was enabled by the recess motion to reach home only a little later than those who paid their way into a regular theatre. The senate's performance, particularly during the hour of 9:15 to 10:15 was regarded by the gallery as one of the seasons's most enjoyable comedies.

Its title might have been "hide out".

Senator Jim Reed had been speaking since 7:15 p. m. on the advisability of the United States buying the French and British West Indies. Some of the colleagues thought he was tired. "Let me call a quorum Jim," suggested Senator Robinson in a loud whisper. Reed assented. Curtis, watchful republican whip, made a point of order that Reed couldn't yield without losing his place. The senate wrangled about it, but finally the roll was called and there was no quorum. Senator Robinson moved to adjourn. This motion lost again, disclosing there was no quorum.

"Fight Goes on Indefinitely"
Washington, Feb. 21.—"All deals are off; the fight will go on indefinitely."

With this announcement Senator Jones of Washington today prepared as the senate met at 11 o'clock to continue holding out against the democratic filibuster against the administration ship subsidy bill.

Neither President Harding nor any administration leader in senate has the slightest intention of surrendering to the filibusters or of withdrawing the bill, Jones declared.

It was revealed that Senator Smoot of Utah had blocked an agreement which was about to be consummated with the filibusters under which the senate would have voted at noon today on the motion to substitute the filled milk bill for the subsidy. Although administration forces felt they had the votes to beat the milk measure off, Smoot said he would object to any agreement that conceded anything to the subsidy.

Senator Reed of Missouri resumed the filibuster by continuing his long speech on the plan of buying the West Indies.

FIND BABYLONIAN TEMPLE BUILT 25 CENTURIES BEFORE CHRIST, LEADING BACK TO TIME OF NEBUCHADNEZZAR

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—A Babylonian temple built 25 centuries before Christ—centuries more ancient than the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen of Egypt—has been discovered at Ur, Mesopotamia, according to Sir Frederick George Kenyon, director of the British museum.

A discovery was made by the joint expedition of the British museum and of the University of Pennsylvania.

Sir Kenyon, in Philadelphia today, told the university officials the inner secrets of the discovery.

The temple now being unearthed is believed to have been erected in the time of Abraham, and Nebuchadnezzar, in biblical history, is thought to have made extensive repairs on it, although him to yield to them so they could put in reports. Senator Hitchcock, captain of the filibusters said he would object to Reed yielding.

The desire is to tie the senate up so tightly that it could not transact business of any kind.

TWO FILE BIDS FOR ST. LAWRENCE POWER

Duluth, Feb. 21.—Two applications for the utilization of the water power generated in building the proposed St. Lawrence waterway have already been filed, according to word received by the headquarters of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association.

These applications are now before the federal power commission, the reports to John Stone Pardee, assistant executive director of the association, state. One is from the Frontier corporation, which includes the Aluminum Corporation of America, the General Electric company, the DuPont interests and others, who propose to develop all the available power at Niagara Falls and in the St. Lawrence.

The second application was made by the American-Super Power Corporation of Buffalo, in which Westinghouse interests and others are said to be joined. In this application, it is set forth that the improvement is substantially on the lines recommended by the engineers and the international joint commission.

It proposes to develop 1,600,000 horsepower in the international section of the river. It would include locks through the dams, leaving the channels to be developed by the government.

HUNTER HITS TRAIL FOR $10,000 WOLF

LONE NEW YORKER TEMPTS FATE IN "WILDS OF ONTARIO" TO WIN BIG WAGER

Fort William, Ont., Feb. 21.—Civilization of the east, backed by a rifle, today is pitting its strategy against the "wild of the west" in a wolf hunt which promises to furnish plenty of thrills and may result in the winning of a $10,000 wager.

Somewhere in Ontario there is a timber wolf worth $10,000 and Frank Doudera, of New York, who terms himself president of the "New York Big Game club," is here to get that wolf.

Dispatches from this district a few weeks ago told of the slaying of a trapper and two Indians by man-eating packs of wolves north of Ignace. Doudera and his friends read the story in a New York paper and in the discussion which followed, Doudera was dared to go to the "wilds of north-west Ontario" alone and pick off a wolf with his rifle.

As a result of the dare and the posting of a $10,000 wager, Doudera came to Fort William, obtained two guides and is now journeying into the wilds to get the wolf, single handed, and protect his wager.

He has six weeks to fill the contract. He must take the wolf hide back to New York.

Luxor, Feb. 21.—Pharaoh Tut-Ankh-Amen is to sleep through another sultry summer beneath the red cliffs of the valley of the kings.

Visitors, royal, distinguished, not merely curious, the horde of tourists that have come to Luxor to be near the scene of the most famous excavation of a century, are departing today.

Others will come to take the places, but the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen will shortly be sealed and the work of excavation cease entirely until autumn.

INTERNATIONAL ROTARY WEEK

CITIZENSHIP CAMPAIGN BY THE ROTARIANS DURING THE PRESENT WEEK

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—"That citizen who regards himself as a model of civic proprieties because his present conduct is impeccable; but who does not co-operate with the civil authorities or exert his influence in behalf of the best possible administration of the laws; greatly overrates his usefulness as a citizen."

President Harding today summed up his idea of the responsibility of the individual citizen for the proper administration of the laws of his country and his city in a message addressed to the citizens of the United States through Rotary International, in connection with the eighteenth anniversary of the organization of the first Rotary Club.

Throughout the world this week Rotary International is broadcasting by radio and through speeches in schools, industrial plants, in civic societies and clubs, messages on the obligation and responsibilities of the individual citizen from the heads of the various branches of government in twenty-seven countries. There are approximately fourteen hundred Rotary Clubs scattered over every corner more than 90,000. Practically every citizen will be engaged in this citizenship campaign during the course of this week.

In the United States the messages that are being sent out include the one from President Harding on the individual citizen's responsibility for administration of the laws, Speaker Frederick Gillett of the House of Representatives on the citizen's responsibility for legislation and Attorney General Dougherty on the citizen's responsibility for the operation of the courts.

The full text of President Harding's message follows:

UNDERGROUND WATER SUPPLY BETTER THAN RIVER WATER, SAID ZAPFFE IN ADDRESS AT LITTLE FALLS' COUNCIL

Carl Zapffe, president of the water and light board, Vice President A. A. Weidemann, and W. D. McKay, secretary, accompanied by Mayor Frank E. Little, have returned from Little Falls, where on Monday evening Mr. Zapffe spoke on the general subject of water supply, and particularly the advisability of making every effort to develop an underground supply rather than resorting to filtering Mississippi river water. Filtration should be undertaken only as a last resort, but an underground supply should not be tried unless a large amount of drilling is done first to satisfy the most skeptical that using wells is the proper method, said Mr. Zapffe.

Mr. Zapffe outlined the procedure that was followed in Brainerd, both before building and after building the new system, pointed the similarity between conditions in Brainerd and Little Falls and that the one difference which was of great importance resulted from the proximity of the underlying rock to the surface because in the city and in the outlying territory are numerous places where the rock is exposed, which means that the water bearing gravels would not supply very deep and might be the cause of too small a supply of water.

6 FACE ABDUCTION CHARGES BROUGHT

MEN CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP MAN AND COM- PEL HIM TO MARRY

(By United Press)
Chippewa Falls, Wis., Feb. 21.—Six men face abduction charges today following an unusual attempt to kidnap Ed Nunke, 19, and force him to marry. The girl in the case is now in Minneapolis in seclusion. The reports were she is in a hospital there.

Ed Wahl, father of Halile Wahl, Eau Claire, is said by police to have led the party of men who took Nunke captive on a highway between Chippewa Falls and Eau Claire and held him prisoner in the Wahl home on Water street, Eau Claire, all night.

The plan was to take him to Minneapolis and force him to marry the girl, police said. A brother of Nunke learned of the abduction and informed police. When the men took Nunke to a nearby station to board the train for Minneapolis, police intervened.

The six men charged with abduction are Ed Wahl, superintendent of traffic on the Interurban line of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company; his two sons, Allen and Roy Wahl; B. Gilbert; George Tibbits; and Reuben Gullickson. They were all taken before Judge P. F. Connor late yesterday and released under $1,000 bail each, to appear Friday morning to answer abduction charges.

Aside from the alleged attempt to force Nunke to marry the girl, police said there was enmity between Nunke, who is a bus driver, and the interurban employees. It is understood the interurban owners will back Wahl and his companions in their defense.

LEE ASKS ABOLITION OF RAIL LABOR BOARD

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Several members of the United States railroad labor board, including Ben W. Hooper, chairman, were guests of the Western Railway club at a banquet in the Auditorium hotel. After paying formal tribute to the personnel of the board, the chief speaker advocated its abolition.

The speaker was William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. In urging repeal of that portion of the transportation act which created the labor board and a return to the Newlands arbitration law, Mr. Lee criticized operation under federal control because of the administration's failure "to assume responsibility for establishing rates necessary to meet legitimate expenses."

Hines Proposed For Veterans Bureau Post

Washington, Feb. 21.—Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, resigned, who was chief of transportation for the army during the World war, has been added to the growing list of possible appointees to the Veterans bureau directorship.

COUNTERFEITERS IN TOILS AT N. Y. AND NEW JERSEY

SCORES OF FEDERAL AGENTS BUSY, 24 ARRESTS MADE SO FAR

DRAG NET EXPECTED TO CATCH 150 MEMBERS OF COUNTER- FEITING RINGS

New York, Feb. 21.—Scores of federal agents today are rounding up counterfeiters in New York and New Jersey.

Twenty-four persons have been arrested in Manhattan and Brooklyn so far, it was reported at the customs house where the prisoners are being herded in a big room.

Approximately 150 members of counterfeiting rings were marked for arrest. It is not known yet how many have been taken. Raids are still in progress.

When the agents broke into the "money factory" of the gang at Brooklyn during the night, a rough and tumble fight resulted. Shots were exchanged. Several of the prisoners in the customs house bore marks of the struggle.

Gigantic Conspiracy Bared
New York, Feb. 21.—A gigantic counterfeiting corporation with manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers of false bank notes was bared this afternoon following arrest of 28 alleged counterfeiters today brings the total under arrest to 64 and marks the partial culmination of a chase that has led Federal Agent Joe Palma and his operatives to all parts of the world since August 22, 1922.

Notes broadcasted by the gang which was rounded up last night and today were found on their way to Europe, Cuba and the Bahamas. They were circulated abroad by bootleggers and smugglers of narcotics who had themselves been victimized by the counterfeiters.

The gang circulated chiefly ten and twenty dollar bills, the latter being a poor counterfeit of bills of the National City Bank of Grand Rapids.

The counterfeiters, Palma said, divided their activities into five groups—manufacturers, wholesalers, wholesale agents, retailers and retail salesmen.

Wholesalers took the money from the presses, distributed it in large lots to retailers throughout the country. Thousands of dollars found their way down the Jersey coast where rum runners were easy victims.

The wholesale profit, Palma said, was from 17 to 20c on the dollar, and the retailers sometimes as high as 50c.

HARRY THAW GETS A "VACATION"

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The great iron gates of the Pennsylvania hospital for the insane swung open today and a white haired, stooped, sallow eyed man rode out in a closed automobile for a temporary "vacation."

It was Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, and former husband of Evelyn Nesbit, who had been granted liberty for ten days so that he may visit his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, in Pittsburgh.

Few persons today would recognize the man who was committed to the asylum six years ago. In 1917 Thaw was as straight as an arrow, hair coal black, and he walked with a springy step. Today his general appearance is vastly changed.

Arlington, S. D., Feb. 21.—Fred Schlack, a farmer living near here, reports he has been getting good results from burning potatoes in his hard coal stove. He says the potatoes char through and take on the appearance of charcoal; that they hold fire well, and are economical fuel at the present prices of potatoes and coal.

New York, Feb. 21.—Scores of federal agents today are rounding up counterfeiters in New York and New Jersey.

Twenty-four persons have been arrested in Manhattan and Brooklyn so far, it was reported at the customs house where the prisoners are being herded in a big room.

Approximately 150 members of counterfeiting rings were marked for arrest. It is not known yet how many have been taken. Raids are still in progress.

When the agents broke into the "money factory" of the gang at Brooklyn during the night, a rough and tumble fight resulted. Shots were exchanged. Several of the prisoners in the customs house bore marks of the struggle.

Gigantic Conspiracy Bared
New York, Feb. 21.—A gigantic counterfeiting corporation with manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers of false bank notes was bared this afternoon following arrest of 28 alleged counterfeiters today brings the total under arrest to 64 and marks the partial culmination of a chase that has led Federal Agent Joe Palma and his operatives to all parts of the world since August 22, 1922.

Notes broadcasted by the gang which was rounded up last night and today were found on their way to Europe, Cuba and the Bahamas. They were circulated abroad by bootleggers and smugglers of narcotics who had themselves been victimized by the counterfeiters.

The gang circulated chiefly ten and twenty dollar bills, the latter being a poor counterfeit of bills of the National City Bank of Grand Rapids.

The counterfeiters, Palma said, divided their activities into five groups—manufacturers, wholesalers, wholesale agents, retailers and retail salesmen.

Wholesalers took the money from the presses, distributed it in large lots to retailers throughout the country. Thousands of dollars found their way down the Jersey coast where rum runners were easy victims.

The wholesale profit, Palma said, was from 17 to 20c on the dollar, and the retailers sometimes as high as 50c.

HARRY THAW GETS A "VACATION"

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The great iron gates of the Pennsylvania hospital for the insane swung open today and a white haired, stooped, saw-toothed man rode out in a closed automobile for a temporary "vacation."

It was Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, and former husband of Evelyn Nesbit, who had been granted liberty for ten days so that he may visit his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Copeley Thaw, in Pittsburgh.

Few persons today would recognize the man who was committed to the asylum six years ago. In 1917 Thaw was as straight as an arrow, hair coal black, and he walked with a springy step. Today his general appearance is vastly changed.

Arlington, S. D., Feb. 21.—Fred Schlack, a farmer living near here, reports he has been getting good results from burning potatoes in his hard coal stove. He says the potatoes char through and take on the appearance of charcoal; that they hold fire well, and are economical fuel at the present prices of potatoes and coal.

FREE STATERS AND INSURGENTS BATTLE

PROCLAIM BOYCOTT

(By United Press)
Dublin, Feb. 21.—Eamonn DeValera, rebel chieftain, today proclaimed a boycott on English goods, forbidding his followers to sell or buy them.

The free state starting a campaign to exterminate insurgent organizations, paraded 1,400 men, who were inspected by President Cosgrove.

SIGHT ASSURED BOY
WITH GRAFTED PIG EYE

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 21.—Return of sight to the right eye of Alfred Lemowicz, to which were grafted parts of the eye of a pig, is now assured, Dr. Edward Morgan said. The boy declared that the eye becomes stronger every day, although as yet he cannot distinguish objects.

SCHOOL BURNS;
FIREBUG BLAMED

LOSS AT GARFIELD INSTITUTION
$15,000—OFFICIAL LAYS
BLAZE TO MICE

Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—Fire of undetermined origin, believed by fire marshals to have been incendiary, early yesterday damaged the Garfield school, Chicago avenue and Twenty-fourth street, one of the city's oldest public school buildings, erected in 1882.

"There will be a thorough investigation," Fire Marshal George Marden said. He disagreed with F. C. Brown, superintendent of school buildings for the board of education, who attributed the blaze to spontaneous combustion, or to matches gnawed by mice.

Loss was estimated at $15,000 and children got a one day vacation.

The Garfield school is a two story brick structure. An addition was built in 1889, but recent surveys have listed it as old and without equipment to fight fire.

Starting in a paper store room in the basement, the blaze burned for several minutes before the crash of broken glass attracted the attention of Police Sergeant N. Nordgren and Patrolman N. Bergen, who were standing at a nearby corner.

A very successful meeting of the Deerwood-Irondale Farm Bureau Unit was held Tuesday in the Ladies Aid hall at Deerwood.

County Agent E. G. Roth, presented the subject of alfalfa, and the impetus this product had received in this section last season. At the close of Mr. Roth's talk the farmers of this club ordered over three hundred pounds of seed, which they will plant this spring.

O. W. Wanvig, of the First National Bank of Deerwood, took up the matter of dairying in all of its phases and made a very instructive talk on this subject.

Farmers in Crow Wing county are showing a keen interest in alfalfa and dairying, two subjects that go hand in hand and are very profitable, especially in Northern Minnesota. It is expected that both will be cultivated this year on a much larger scale than ever before and will assure the farmers a steady income and more prosperity than has ever been their lot in the past.

2 STRONG QUINTS IN BATTLE ARRAY

Brainerd High Basketball Team to Oppose Little Falls on Latter's Home Floor

THE OUTCOME IS IN DOUBT

Day of Second Team, Because of Excellent Record Made, to Accompany the Locals
(By W. G.)

Tomorrow is the day of reckoning for the two strongest basketball squads in the central division of this district. Brainerd, after due preparation for the skirmish, will have its second final try at Little Falls on the latter's floor.

A desperate battle is all that can be predicted, and the outcome is beyond speculation. Little Falls has trimmed us once in a clean fight on the local's home floor. Many alibis have been given to account for the defeat of the team that had whipped seven competitors in a row out of the conference schedule. Whether this record means anything or not will be decided tomorrow evening.

One thing, however, is the strong belief of the local supporters that Brainerd is as good, man for man, as Little Falls, and unless the game is a fluke for Brainerd, we expect the men to show they are superior to the down river quint.

Brainerd's Line Up

These are the men that will in all probability go with the team, although who will play has not fully been decided.

Hess, captain, will lead the aggregation. Wally Engbretson, who without a doubt will start and is counted as the heaviest scoring man, will go. Lowe and Heikkinen will be expected to defend the blue and white cage. Zakariasen who has done noble work in recent times will be taken with Day, a man who has risen from the second team through his consistent shooting. Peterson, who has been out nursing an injured leg may be able to wear his suit. Molstad and Orth will also be depended upon, also Earl Engbretson, who has proven his skill and speed at Pine River by scoring six points in the limited period he was in the game. Every one of these men is expected to be in the pink of condition for tomorrow's fray.

A multitude will follow their champions and added facilities will no doubt be at hand to aid in the transportation of the hopeful rooters. Celebrate Washington's birthday by backing the local battlers.

Little Falls' Opinion

That Little Falls thinks something of the coming game, is shown by this clipping from the Little Falls Daily Transcript:

The fastest basketball game of the season is scheduled for Washington's birthday when the Brainerd high school team will appear on the local floor against Coach Ames' quint. Brainerd is coming with the determination to stage a comeback and get revenge for the defeat administered to that team on February 12. The Brainerd players lay their defeat to over-confidence and too many games in close succession. They have been defeated but once this year but have not played St. Cloud or Bemidji. Rivalry between the two schools always runs high and a large delegation of fans is coming down for the game to aid in keeping the excitement at high pitch.

It is uncertain whether E. Brown will be able to play as his leg is in very bad condition. In case he is out of the game either D. Brown or Lasky will hold down the forward position. The team may line up at the start the same as in the game at Brainerd. Nymman at center, Brown and Crose at forward and Glerok and D. Brown at the guard posts.

Another win over Brainerd will practically insure the high school an opportunity to play in the district tournament at St. Cloud.

UNDERGROUND WATER SUPPLY BETTER THAN RIVER WATER

gave a very good account of Mr. Zapffe's address, as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to be with you and to tell you about the water supply because I am greatly interested in it," said Carl Zapffe, president of the water board at Brainerd, in opening his address before the adjourned meeting of the city council Monday evening, "but I do not want you folks to feel that Brainerd is trying to inject itself into the affairs of Little Falls."

He brought out the fact that the problem which is now confronting Little Falls is the same one which Brainerd faced and the stage which Brainerd has just passed is one which this city will be passing in two or three years more.

In Brainerd the water and light are handled by a commission of three men appointed by the mayor, who is elected for two years. The commissioners serve two years each and the whole board never goes out at any one time.

He stated that he did not need to be told why the consumption of water in Little Falls was light, he knew what Brainerd sends us every day in our present water supply and that Brainerd is not the only one that contributes but the entire territory between here and Brainerd as well, and farther north.

"A good water supply is the biggest advertisement a city can have and a poor water supply is its worst drawback," said Mr. Zapffe.

The underground water supply is far superior to the filtered river supply, according to Mr. Zapffe, for drinking purposes because it is always the proper temperature. For domestic purposes the water is a little harder than the river supply but not enough to be a drawback. As compared with the filtration plan it is much cheaper to locate an underground supply.

An objection that many people may offer, when the subject of an underground water supply for a city comes up, is that the well might run dry, as is the case of many small wells dug for individual purposes. This objection would not carry on the question because a city should never attempt to locate a city water system on an underground well until it had been proven beyond a doubt that there was an abundance of water for all time to come in the well. This would be determined by digging plenty of test wells.

"The thing for you folks to do, is as we did in Brainerd," he said. "Drill until you ascertain whether there is a sufficiently large reserve supply to last year in and year out. There is a difference between a city supply and a farm supply, where we drill until we strike water. For a city supply we drill down and determine a supply of gravel. It isn't a question of whether the gravel is 5 feet, 25 feet or 40 feet. The first thing to determine is whether the bed lies deep enough and whether it is sufficiently extensive. The answer can only be obtained by test wells."

One condition here which he mentioned as being different from Brainerd was that in many places here the underlying rock comes so very close to the surface, due perhaps to the fact that the river might have changed its course at some time. He stated that if there was only 10 feet of soil it would never give an adequate water supply and he would never advocate an underground supply unless conditions were just right, as determined by extensive drilling. If the rock comes close to the surface in one spot, that is no sign it will in others and only extensive drilling will show it. Chemical analysis should also be made of the water from the test wells from time to time. This the state department will do free of charge.

"If after much drilling you find that your gravel bed is not extensive enough to furnish an adequate water supply, or an analysis shows that the water contains iron or other minerals which are a detriment, then your only recourse is to the filtration plant."

The city of Brainerd, according to Mr. Zapffe, spent between $6,000 and $7,000 in test wells.

The present Brainerd system consists of two groups of four pipes each and an open well with six tubes.

Another condition which is more favorable here is that the town is not spread out over a wide territory as was the case in Brainerd where it was necessary to lay considerable mains. There are many vacant lots between the houses in that city, cutting down the revenue considerably.

"Just as soon as we got our system started," said Mr. Zapffe, "we put everybody on a water meter."

They found that the people had been using a great deal more water than they needed. On the old system and without the meters the two pumps ran 24 hours each in order to supply the demand. On the new system one pump runs 17 hours and the balance of the time the supply is drawn from the tank, thus insuring a complete change of water in the tank each day. After installing the meters they were surprised at the small amount used. Everyone carried conservation to the point of stinginess. However, in a few months there was a reaction and everyone began to use what they needed.

"In putting in a municipal system you must expect to run along a few years without profit. Brainerd did so until last year. In Brainerd we found soon after it started that the rates would have to be raised from 35 cents to 50 cents. This last year we have shown a profit."

Mr. Zapffe answered several questions put to him by members of the council and citizens who attended the meeting but was forced to leave before he answered them all in order to catch the Brainerd local. Mayor F. E. Little and A. J. A. Weldemann and W. D. McKay of the Brainerd water board were also present at the meeting.

ANOTHER CRITIC OF AMERICA

THE husband of Isadora Duncan, Serge Yessenin, has voiced his criticism of Americans. His criticism will not carry a great deal of weight because of its source, but as others have been saying similar things about us, it is well that the content of the criticism should be given consideration. In part, this is what he says: "America may be divided into four generations as I sum it up—first, a generation of pioneers; second, a generation of workers, who built the foundations of the country; third, a generation of snobs, and fourth, the present generation, which is composed of legalized commercial thieves."

The chief fault to be found with such a criticism is that it is untrue. The critic speaks of America, and his generalization takes away the sting of whatever of truth there may be in the criticism that some Americans are what he says they are. Much of contemporary thinking is characterized by the shallowness that is found in this criticism. To talk about America as being this, that, or the other is beside the mark, because America is a nation of over one hundred and ten million people who are divided into all kinds of groups, types and sets.

It is possibly true that there is something in what the critic says. But in a country that has called so largely upon the other half of the world for its population, it is likely that there is but little relation between one generation and another. America as it is today has been shaped largely by the immigrants who have come into this country in vast numbers. Therefore the "snob" and the "legalized commercial thieves" of which the critic speaks may be more closely related to Serge Yessenin than to the generations of Americans who as pioneers and workers laid the foundations of the American nation.

There are snobs in America, but the most of them came from Europe and are of the get-rich-quick type. That there are legalized commercial thieves in America seems to have been proved by the disclosures made since the war, which shows that men of high place sought to advance their fortunes by robbing their government and by capitalizing the blood of the men who went up to the trenches. Perhaps, some of these are of the fourth generation, and if they are, they are the more to be despised by the millions of honest Americans who seek to do their day's work and live their lives honorably.

America is not what Serge Yessenin says it is, even though some Americans are what their critic calls them. A few crooks and a few snobs do not brand a nation as a nation of snobs and crooks. Serge Yessenin may be a genius but he is a very poor critic.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

It is fitting that when the natal day of the Father of our country rolls round each year, Americans should pay suitable tribute to the man who, more than others, was the maker of this nation. Such memorial days have their value through relating the present to the past and cultivating a respect for the leaders who made their contribution to the history of their country. But if such occasions are used for the purpose of cultivating a reverence for incidental sayings that were called forth by the exigencies of the times in which they were spoken, and these are used to determine the line of action in the present, then, the dead hand of the past rests upon today.

As it is essential that men attempt to see things whole, it is also necessary to relate a character to the circumstances in which that character lived. George Washington was the leader of a revolutionary movement who, when the struggle had been won, found it wise to insist upon obedience to the new government, established by a constitution that had been written to protect what had been won. Even Washington, if he could hear some of the interpretations of his speeches offered on his natal day, would be ready to rise up in his grave. To use the statements of this apostle and champion of change for the purpose of preventing any change in the order of our government is an injustice to the Father of our Country. In his Farewell Address he vindicated the right of the people to change their government by amending the constitution. Many of the statements made in that message were related to the circumstances of his time. He was speaking to the men of his day. This leader of a revolt which was one of the most far-reaching movements of history, would never suspect that his utterances would be used for the purpose of hindering progress, reform and change.

At this time, when the world is passing through a period that invites progress but may bring about a retreat, Washington's voice, were he with us today, would be raised for the purpose of calling the nation to take its place in an ever-enlarging world order. His advice against forming alliances with other peoples came out of the conditions of his time. Said he, "Such an attachment of a small or weak, towards a great and powerful nation, dooms the former to be the satellite to the latter." America is no longer small or weak but is now large and powerful. In today's world order this country would not be a satellite but a masterful leader. Conditions have changed; and, because Washington was a leader, if he were alive today, it is unlikely that his voice would speak the same message that it uttered a century and a half ago.

America needs the spirit of George Washington. His spirit is an inspiration, but we may well remember the words of another leader of a new movement who said "the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life."

ROADS ARE NEEDED IN WINTER

RESIDENTS of Crow Wing county, who are interested in having the roads well kept, have no criticisms to offer over the way the state highway department attempted to protect the much used roads against hard wear during last summer and fall. The state highway department has the hearty backing of progressive citizens in this state, and the bond issue calling for the expenditure of $20,000,000 during the next two years has their approval. Commissioner Babcock has proved that his construction scheme is intelligently prepared, economically sound and constructively efficient.

In asking that the roads be cleared for traffic during the winter months we are not criticizing the department; for we are aware that it takes time and money to put across a program that will give adequate service the year round. We are convinced that in time—in a short time—the highway department will secure the necessary equipment and engage the requisite forces to keep the main roads open through the winter months.

It is highly desirable that good roads should stretch away ahead of our tourists who come this way during the summer and fall, but it is also advantageous to have roads cleared of snow during the winter, that they may be used by the dwellers in our rural districts whose produce must be moved and whose business must be attended to in the centers of population and at the county seat.

Successful experiments have been made on the north shore of Lake Superior and the road stretching from Duluth to Grand Marais has, through this winter, been kept open to travel. The operations on this road have been highly satisfactory and it has been demonstrated that a wide road may be kept serviceable through the worst of winter weather.

While the drivers of automobiles and trucks, who are taxed heavily for the upkeep of the roads, should have the best possible roads during the fine weather, the farmers whose energy is developing the values of the state should be enabled to travel over open roads in winter. There is every reason to believe that, as the roads are hard-surfaced, they will be kept free from snow-drifts through the winter months affording an all-the-year-round means of travel.

COLONEL C. D. JOHNSON has won state-wide fame as an orator and is speaking at two conventions of druggists this season. If he is as much at home as he is at banquets at the Ransford hotel in our city, those who listen will both laugh and weep. Even the hard-hearted will weep—they'll laugh themselves into it.

Surprising, isn't it? Enough for eight or ten generous portions at a cost of only 25c. Economy indeed, for you can prepare just what you need at one time—the rest will keep in the carton.

And a bigger surprise awaits you when you taste these beans of wonderful springtime flavor and tenderness—beans that almost melt in one's mouth.

Dodge Brothers, with equal aptness, could have named it the Family Sedan.

In the first place, it is big and roomy—a five-passenger car that will really seat five adults in comfort. There is no space wasted on superfluous adornments. Every inch of body and chassis is put to actual use.

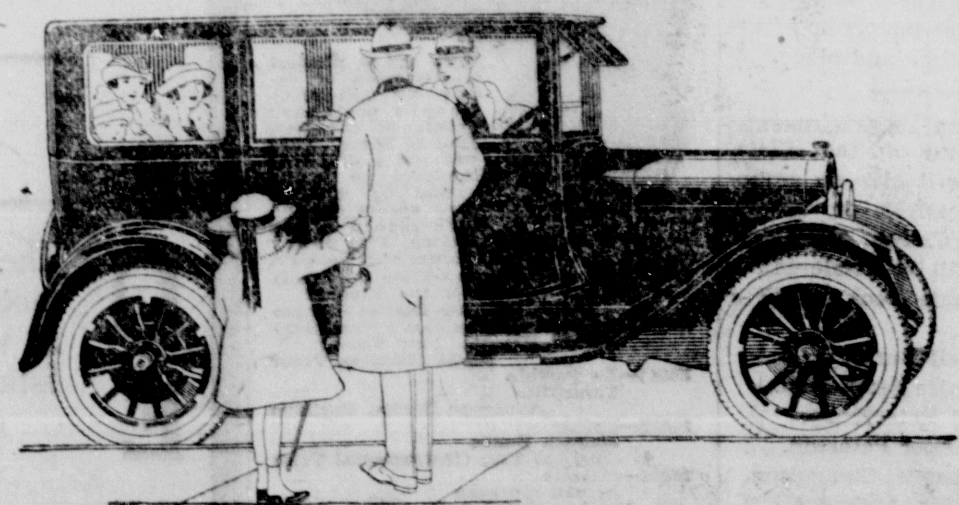

There are no delicate cloth furnishings to be soiled by the children. The seats are upholstered in durable and attractive blue Spanish leather.

There is no sensitive varnish to be easily scratched or finger-spotted. The body is steel-built—a new principle in Sedan design—making it possible to finish the exterior in Dodge Brothers oven-baked enamel, the most durable finish known.

The rear seat furnishings come out—instantly converting the rear section into a spacious carrying compartment—handy for carrying trunks, boxes and household luggage of all sorts.

ANOTHER CRITIC OF AMERICA

THE husband of Isadora Duncan, Serge Yessenin, has voiced his criticism of Americans. His criticism will not carry a great deal of weight because of its source, but as others have been saying similar things about us, it is well that the content of the criticism should be given consideration. In part, this is what he says: "America may be divided into four generations as I sum it up—first, a generation of pioneers; second, a generation of workers, who built the foundations of the country; third, a generation of snobs, and fourth, the present generation, which is composed of legalized commercial thieves."

The chief fault to be found with such a criticism is that it is untrue. The critic speaks of America, and his generalization takes away the sting of whatever of truth there may be in the criticism that some Americans are what he says they are. Much of contemporary thinking is characterized by the shallowness that is found in this criticism. To talk about America as being this, that, or the other is beside the mark, because America is a nation of over one hundred and ten million people who are divided into all kinds of groups, types and sets.

It is possibly true that there is something in what the critic says. But in a country that has called so largely upon the other half of the world for its population, it is likely that there is but little relation between one generation and another. America as it is today has been shaped largely by the immigrants who have come into this country in vast numbers. Therefore the "snob" and the "legalized commercial thieves" of which the critic speaks may be more closely related to Serge Yessenin than to the generations of Americans who as pioneers and workers laid the foundations of the American nation.

There are snobs in America, but the most of them came from Europe and are of the get-rich-quick type. That there are legalized commercial thieves in America seems to have been proved by the disclosures made since the war, which shows that men of high place sought to advance their fortunes by robbing their government and by capitalizing the blood of the men who went up to the trenches. Perhaps, some of these are of the fourth generation, and if they are, they are the more to be despised by the millions of honest Americans who seek to do their day's work and live their lives honorably.

America is not what Serge Yessenin says it is, even though some Americans are what their critic calls them. A few crooks and a few snobs do not brand a nation as a nation of snobs and crooks. Serge Yessenin may be a genius but he is a very poor critic.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

It is fitting that when the natal day of the Father of our country rolls round each year, Americans should pay suitable tribute to the man who, more than others, was the maker of this nation. Such memorial days have their value through relating the present to the past and cultivating a respect for the leaders who made their contribution to the history of their country. But if such occasions are used for the purpose of cultivating a reverence for incidental sayings that were called forth by the exigencies of the times in which they were spoken, and these are used to determine the line of action in the present, then, the dead hand of the past rests upon today.

As it is essential that men attempt to see things whole, it is also necessary to relate a character to the circumstances in which that character lived. George Washington was the leader of a revolutionary movement who, when the struggle had been won, found it wise to insist upon obedience to the new government, established by a constitution that had been written to protect what had been won. Even Washington, if he could hear some of the interpretations of his speeches offered on his natal day, would be ready to rise up in his grave. To use the statements of this apostle and champion of change for the purpose of preventing any change in the order of our government is an injustice to the Father of our Country. In his Farewell Address he vindicated the right of the people to change their government by amending the constitution. Many of the statements made in that message were related to the circumstances of his time. He was speaking to the men of his day. This leader of a revolt which was one of the most far-reaching movements of history, would never suspect that his utterances would be used for the purpose of hindering progress, reform and change.

At this time, when the world is passing through a period that invites progress but may bring about a retreat, Washington's voice, were he with us today, would be raised for the purpose of calling the nation to take its place in an ever-enlarging world order. His advice against forming alliances with other peoples came out of the conditions of his time. Said he, "Such an attachment of a small or weak, towards a great and powerful nation, dooms the former to be the satellite to the latter." America is no longer small or weak but is now large and powerful. In today's world order this country would not be a satellite but a masterful leader. Conditions have changed; and, because Washington was a leader, if he were alive today, it is unlikely that his voice would speak the same message that it uttered a century and a half ago.

America needs the spirit of George Washington. His spirit is an inspiration, but we may well remember the words of another leader of a new movement who said "the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life."

ROADS ARE NEEDED IN WINTER

RESIDENTS of Crow Wing county, who are interested in having the roads well kept, have no criticisms to offer over the way the state highway department attempted to protect the much used roads against hard wear during last summer and fall. The state highway department has the hearty backing of progressive citizens in this state, and the bond issue calling for the expenditure of $20,000,000 during the next two years has their approval. Commissioner Babcock has proved that his construction scheme is intelligently prepared, economically sound and constructively efficient.

In asking that the roads be cleared for traffic during the winter months we are not criticizing the department; for we are aware that it takes time and money to put across a program that will give adequate service the year round. We are convinced that in time—in a short time—the highway department will secure the necessary equipment and engage the requisite forces to keep the main roads open through the winter months.

It is highly desirable that good roads should stretch away ahead of our tourists who come this way during the summer and fall, but it is also advantageous to have roads cleared of snow during the winter, that they may be used by the dwellers in our rural districts whose produce must be moved and whose business must be attended to in the centers of population and at the county seat.

Successful experiments have been made on the north shore of Lake Superior and the road stretching from Duluth to Grand Marais has, through this winter, been kept open to travel. The operations on this road have been highly satisfactory and it has been demonstrated that a wide road may be kept serviceable through the worst of winter weather.

While the drivers of automobiles and trucks, who are taxed heavily for the upkeep of the roads, should have the best possible roads during the fine weather, the farmers whose energy is developing the values of the state should be enabled to travel over open roads in winter. FARMERS' CREAMERY ELECTS OFFICERS

Otto Wendt Named President, P. B. Anderson Vice President, Miss Sylvia Nelson Secretary

CONTEST FOR THE DIRECTORS

Resolutions Adopted Define Position of Creamery as to Entering State Association

At the annual meeting of the Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Association held in the farmers' room of the court house on Tuesday afternoon, the most important business up was the election of officers and the matter of joining a state association of creameries.

Otto Wendt was re-elected president, it being the unanimous wish of the stockholders that he succeed himself.

For vice president there were three nominees and the vote received stood P. B. Anderson 16, Simon Frederickson 13 and August Erickson 12. Mr. Anderson was declared elected.

For secretary Miss Sylvia Nelson and for treasurer August Nelson had no opposition.

For three directors there was quite a bit of voting. Seven candidates were nominated and the vote stood: Peter Madsen 21, August Erickson 18, G. S. McCulloch 15, C. Converse 11, Fred Hanson 8, Charles Pentin 7, Simon Frederickson 1. Messrs. Madsen, Erickson and McCulloch were declared elected.

Resolutions Adopted

These resolutions, presented by August Nelson, F. C. Peabody and C. B. Converse were adopted:

"The following resolution was adopted at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Association in the city of Brainerd relative to the question of becoming a member of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association.

"Whereas the bylaws of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association provide charges to the member creameries of one-quarter cent per pound upon all the butterfat received by it from its patrons and one-eighth cent per pound upon all butter shipped through the association;

"And whereas, as the Brainerd Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Association are marketing over one-half of its products at home market, and are capable of handling home marketing without any assistance of the central association, under such circumstances we feel that the Central Association have no right to charge commission upon butterfat we sell at the local market.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Association agree to pay such charges upon its eastern shipments only as may be just and equitable, but will not agree to pay any commission upon its home trade.

"If the terms of the contract can be arranged along this line, we will join.

"However, be it further resolved, that should the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association not have it in their power to accept our membership on above terms, we empower our creamery board to do as they see fit in regard to above matter."

U Farm Speaker

E. A. Hanson of the University Farm, St. Paul, spoke on cow testing, the value of feeds for dairy cows and gave statistics of herds tested, of where poor cows were weeded out, and where others by a course of proper feeding were brought to produce more milk. The need of balanced rations was set forth.

The advantages of testing were summarized by the speaker to include:

1. We will know which cows are profitable.
2. Herds get better care.
3. Good cows are worth more when we know how good they are.
4. Young stock will be worth more.
5. Herd improvements comes more rapidly.

Cases Cited

A Freeborn county herd average increased 1911 to 1922, 2,202 pounds of milk and 133 pounds of butterfat, or each cow made $53.20 more in 1922 than in 1911.

A one year test in Wabasha county showed a herd average increased in 1922 over the year 1921, 713 pounds of milk, 33 pounds of butterfat, and each cow returned $13.20 more in 1921, for ten cows being $132.

A one year test of a Hennepin county herd showed the herd average increased 1679 pounds of milk and 48 pounds of butterfat, making each cow worth $19.20 more, ten cows increasing $192 in value.

Discussion at Meeting

A discussion entered into by practically all present resolved itself in showing as much loyalty to the local creamery during the winter months as in the summer months. The creamery needed winter support, for the expense bill ran along just the same as in summer.

Many cited experiences, but the general consensus of opinion seemed to be that all should stand by the creamery, in winter as well as in summer.

Aurora Lodge of Masons to Combine 50th Anniversary Celebration With the Event

REUNION FOR THE MASONS

Many Members of the Home Organization as Well as Secres of Visitors Expected

Preparations are practically complete for the Washington's birthday observance and Fiftieth Anniversary celebration which are to be combined in a special afternoon and evening program by Aurora Lodge, No. 100, A. F. & A. M. of Brainerd, on Thursday, February 22nd.

The annual Washington's Birthday observance by the local lodge is always considered the biggest thing in Masonic circles of this section of the state, and is attended each year by many member of the home organization now residing elsewhere, as well as visitors from other lodges in the surrounding territory.

With the added feature of the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration, as a special incentive, an exceedingly large attendance is anticipated and plans have been made accordingly. Many have written the secretary that they are coming for this big event and it is now taking on a third feature, that of a reunion of many that have not attended Aurora lodge for a number of years.

The program begins early in the afternoon with work in the third degree, exemplified by past masters. Following this is a banquet which will be served by the ladies of the Eastern Star in the large hall formerly occupied by the business college, just across the corridor from the lodge rooms.

The evening will be given over to a program of speeches and reminiscences appropriate to the occasion. These will be interspersed with numerous musical numbers. The rooms have been beautifully decorated with flags and pictures of Washington. It is hoped that Grand Master J. M. McConnell and Grand Secretary John Fishel will be able to attend, although nothing definite has been learned in this regard.

KRECH SCHOOL DISTRICT

Perfects Parent-Teachers Association, Forty in Attendance at Meeting Held

The patrons of the Krech school district, near Gull lake, have perfected a Parent-Teachers Association, and held a most interesting meeting at their school house on Tuesday afternoon, some forty being in attendance.

The program rendered by the children of the school was in the nature of a Washington-Lincoln memorial, with appropriate recitations and songs. Michael Marek gave an inspiring address and Miss Thora Ingebreton, county nurse, spoke at length on her work, and the advantages of the newly organized parent-teacher association.

This school has about twenty-five students enrolled, and the start which has been given the association and the interest taken by the parents, seems to portend a splendid future for the new organization.

11 FIRES TOOK TOLL IN FEBRUARY

Some Were Quickly Checked by the Department Before Any Damage Was Done

FEB. 11 MOST DESTRUCTIVE ONE

"The Third Alarm," Benefit Play of Department, Shows Wonderful Fire Scene

Eleven fires have taken their toll of property in Brainerd so far during the month of February, some were checked before any serious damage was done, but others dealt out considerable devastation.

On Feb. 2nd, a chimney fire at the post office started the work of the month, with no damage reported.

Feb. 3rd a fire in the Con O'Brien home on South Broadway did considerable damage during the noon hour.

Feb. 5th the department was called to the Treglawney residence on Juniper Street to extinguish a chimney fire. It was checked before any damage was done.

Feb. 7th, the Nels Hyatt home in West Brainerd was partially destroyed by an overheated stove in the kitchen. The department was handicapped in this instance by the fact that there is no water supply in that part of the city.

Feb. 11 seems to have been the day when the climax was reached. Two bad fires at the same time were reported, one the Koop building downtown, the other the Louis Kunde residence on Forsythe Street, N. E. The Koop fire caused much destruction not only to that property but to other business houses in the vicinity. The fire department was compelled to split its forces, taking some to fight the Kunde blaze, which was extinguished after the roof and second story had been badly damaged.

Another chimney fire on the 13th called the department to the A. G. Treadwell residence, with no loss of property.

An overheated stove caused a bad kitchen fire at the A. J. Overly home on North Tenth Street Feb. 15th.

A small blaze of unknown origin was extinguished in the alley near the Model Laundry at 2:20 A. M. on Feb. 18th.

Another overheated stove caused some loss at the John Elkins home on Main Street Feb. 19th. The department was also called to extinguish a chimney fire at 1420 Quince St., at the home of M. E. Davis on the same day.

The last one of the eleven was another chimney blaze at the home of Jerry Crowley, 201 Second Avenue, N. E. at 8 o'clock P. M. Feb. 20th, but there is still a week left in the month, with the uncertainties that it may bring forth.

"Third Alarm" Fire Scene

The local fire department calls attention that the biggest conflagration not only of the month of February, but for the entire year, will be that witnessed Wednesday and Thursday evenings in "The Third Alarm" the firemen's benefit picture at the New Park Theatre.

It should be explained that the Brainerd fire department is doing exceptionally good work, and have been the means of checking many fires that had an ugly start and promised the destruction of much property.

In the instance of the Koop fire, the fighters deserve special mention, in working under extreme difficulties which included cold weather and its attending troubles. The work did not stop when the fire was brought under control on the first day, but required close attention on the two following days as well.

The witnesses to the pleasing ceremony were Mrs. Henrietta Johnson and Miss Helen Schelberg.

GRUENHAGEN BLDG. BEING REPAIRED

Victor Carlson has Contract for the Work of Adding Second Story, Roof, Etc.

NEW FRONT OF PRESSED BRICK

Two Large Display Windows on Second Floor, Each to be 7 ft. by 18 ft. in Size

The Gruenhagen building, which was badly damaged by the fire of February 11th, is being repaired and remodeled, Victor Carlson having the contract for this work.

The specifications call for a complete new front of pressed brick, with the former number of show windows on the first floor and two large display windows on the second floor, each 7 ft. by 18 ft. with transoms above.

The first floor arrangement will not be altered, since little damage was done in that section, but the second floor will be entirely new with a new roof. This floor will be in one large room, and will be used by the Gruenhagen Company for their large furniture stock, as before, access being gained by way of a board staircase from the main floor.

A new and complete line of the latest style of furniture has been purchased and will be displayed as soon as the remodeling is completed, stated F. H. Gruenhagen of the company. This work will consume the larger part of three weeks, perhaps longer, according to the contractors.

Many Members of the Home Organization as Well as Scores of Visitors Expected

Preparations are practically complete for the Washington's birthday observance and Fiftieth Anniversary celebration which are to be combined in a special afternoon and evening program by Aurora Lodge, No. 109, A. F. & A. M. of Brainerd, on Thursday, February 22nd.

The annual Washington's Birthday observance by the local lodge is always considered the biggest thing in Masonic circles of this section of the state, and is attended each year by many members of the home organization now residing elsewhere, as well as visitors from other lodges in the surrounding territory.

With the added feature of the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration, as a special incentive, an exceedingly large attendance is anticipated and plans have been made accordingly. Many have written the secretary that they are coming for this big event and it is now taking on a third feature, that of a reunion of many that have not attended Aurora lodge for a number of years.

The program begins early in the afternoon with work in the third degree, exemplified by past masters. Following this is a banquet which will be served by the ladies of the Eastern Star in the large hall formerly occupied by the business college, just across the corridor from the lodge rooms.

The evening will be given over to a program of speeches and reminiscences appropriate to the occasion. These will be interspersed with numerous musical numbers. The rooms have been beautifully decorated with flags and pictures of Washington. It is hoped that Grand Master J. M. McConnell and Grand Secretary John Fishel will be able to attend, although nothing definite has been learned in this regard.

KRECH SCHOOL DISTRICT

Perfects Parent-Teachers Association
Forty in Attendance at Meeting Held

The patrons of the Krech school district, near Gull Lake, have perfected a Parent-Teachers Association, and held a most interesting meeting at their school house on Tuesday afternoon, some forty being in attendance.

The program rendered by the children of the school was in the nature of a Washington-Lincoln memorial, with appropriate recitations and songs. Michael Marek gave an inspiring address and Miss Thora Ingebretson, county nurse, spoke at length on her work, and the advantages of the newly organized parent-teacher association.

This school has about twenty-five students enrolled, and the start which has been given the association and the interest taken by the parents, seems to foretell a splendid future for the new organization.

11 FIRES TOOK TOLL IN FEBRUARY

Some Were Quickly Checked by the Department Before Any Damage
Was Done

FEB. 11 MOST DESTRUCTIVE ONE

"The Third Alarm," Benefit Play of Department, Shows Wonderful
Fire Scene

Eleven fires have taken their toll of property in Brainerd so far during the month of February, some were checked before any serious damage was done, but others dealt out considerable devastation.

On Feb. 2nd, a chimney fire at the post office started the work of the month, with no damage reported.

Feb. 3rd a fire in the Con O'Brien home on South Broadway did considerable damage during the noon hour.

Feb. 5th the department was called to the Treglawney residence on Juniper Street to extinguish a chimney fire. It was checked before any damage was done.

Feb. 7th, the Nels Hyatt home in West Brainerd was partially destroyed by an overheated stove in the kitchen. The department was handicapped in this instance by the fact that there is no water supply in that part of the city.

Feb. 11 seems to have been the day when the climax was reached. Two bad fires at the same time were reported, one the Koop building downtown, the other the Louis Kunde residence on Forsythe Street, N. E. The Koop fire caused much destruction not only to that property but to other business houses in the vicinity. The fire department was compelled to split its forces, taking some to fight the Kunde blaze, which was extinguished after the roof and second story had been badly damaged.

Another chimney fire on the 13th called the department to the A. G. Trammald residence, with no loss of property.

An overheated stove caused a bad kitchen fire at the A. J. Overly home on North Tenth Street Feb. 15th.

A small blaze of unknown origin was extinguished in the alley near the Model Laundry at 2:20 A. M. on Feb. 18th.

Another overheated stove caused some loss at the John Elkins home on Main Street Feb. 19th. The department was also called to extinguish a chimney fire at 1420 Quince St., at the home of M. E. Davis on the same day.

The last one of the eleven was another chimney blaze at the home of Jerry Crowley, 201 Second Avenue, N. E. at 8 o'clock P. M. Feb. 20th, but there is still a week left in the month, with the uncertainties that it may bring forth.

"Third Alarm" Fire Scene

The local fire department calls attention that the biggest conflagration not only of the month of February, but for the entire year, will be that witnessed Wednesday and Thursday evenings in "The Third Alarm" the firemen's benefit picture at the New Park Theatre.

It should be explained that the Brainerd fire department is doing exceptionally good work, and have been the means of checking many fires that had an ugly start and promised the destruction of much property.

In the instance of the Koop fire, the fighters deserve special mention, in working under extreme difficulties which included cold weather and its attending troubles. The work did not stop when the fire was brought under control on the first day, but required close attention on the two following days as well.

GRUENHAGEN BLDG. BEING REPAIRED

Victor Carlson has Contract for the Work of Adding Second Story, Roof, Etc.

NEW FRONT OF PRESSED BRICK

Two Large Display Windows on Second Floor, Each to be 7 ft. by 18 ft. in Size

The Gruenhagen building, which was badly damaged by the fire of February 11th, is being repaired and remodeled, Victor Carlson having the contract for this work.

The specifications call for a complete new front of pressed brick, with the former number of show windows on the first floor and two large display windows on the second floor, each 7 ft. by 18 ft. with transoms above.

The first floor arrangement will not be altered, since little damage was done in that section, but the second floor will be entirely new with a new roof. This floor will be in one large room, and will be used by the Gruenhagen Company for their large furniture stock, as before, access being gained by way of a board staircase from the main floor.

A new and complete line of the latest styles of furniture has been purchased and will be displayed as soon as the remodeling is completed, stated F. H. Gruenhagen of the company. This work will consume the larger part of three weeks, perhaps longer, according to the contractors.

MAGNATES EXPECT BIG BASEBALL YEAR

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 21.—Big league baseball parks are being enlarged during the off season so that room for 451,000 fans can be found around the two circuits. This is an increase of over 100,000 seats.

Owners of the New York Yankees put close to $2,000,000 into a new stadium that will accommodate 65,000 and can be increased to 100,000 if the need arises.

The Yank owners are the shrewdest business men in baseball and they must think that they are making a good investment of their money.

Improvements bring added seating capacity at the Polo grounds and the Cubs park indicate that other owners figure that the baseball business will be good in the future.

Business wasn't as good last season as it was in the years immediately following the war, but no one expected it to be. A slump had to come and when it did arrive it was fortunate that it didn't run away with itself.

From mid-winter observations it looks like a four team race in both leagues. Business ought to be good if there is such keen competition and a hot race.

Then also there is the case of Babe Ruth.

If the Big Fellow comes back next spring and starts socking them from the first day, baseball is bound to have a huge year, because the prowess of the swat king will help the game everywhere.

Should Ruth get going good from the start, he'll set a new mark because he ought to be in shape the way he has been acting this winter and all he needs is the old confidence.

It has been the cause of frequent complaint that the New York boxing commission pays little heed to what happens in the smaller clubs. It would seem that a little more vigilance would have prevented the arrangements which made the late Andy Thomas, a most promising welterweight, take off nine pounds for a lightweight opponent. The commission is doing its best to keep champions from going out of their class to heavier divisions and in the future the inspectors of the commission should stop the practice of making too much weight to get down into a lighter division.

For the first time since he selected the eastern field as a new world to conquer, Johnny Heisman, former Pennsylvania coach, is going to have a real schedule to put a team through next season. It isn't John's fault, however. The schedule was made up before John was signed as coach.

BILL'S BOWLING NOTES

Should Kill This Bill

Certain legislators are trying to force a bill through the legislature that would close bowling alleys on Sunday and as early as 10 o'clock on week days. We can't imagine what argument the backers of the bill have to gain friends. Bowling alleys are not loafing places and they are not hangouts for suspicious persons. Bowling is one of the cleanest and healthiest indoor sports played. Young men don't go to bowling alleys to idle away their time. They go there to get real, beneficial exercises.

Bowling alleys are filled practically every night in the week with league matches. On Sunday, the working man has his only chance of getting exercise. Many turn to skating rinks and ski slides.

LEACH'S PET PLAN OF DAM POSTPONED

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—The house committee on cities of the first class today indefinitely postponed Mayor George E. Leach's pet plan for a Minneapolis municipal electric corporation to control the government dam between the Twin Cities.

The postponement was voted eight to seven. A minority report, however, favoring the bill will be taken to the house by Minneapolis legislators, and a hot fight is expected over it. Members of the Ramsey county delegation favoring control of the high dam by Henry Ford, predicted failure for the Leach plan.

To Rebuild Normal Schools

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—The state senate today passed a bill providing and raising $1,054,000 to rebuild the state normal schools at Mankato and Winona. Both were completely destroyed by fire last year.

New Rural Credits Bill

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—A new rural credits bill was introduced in the senate today by Senator J. E. Diesen.

The bill is designed to substitute other bills now before the legislature. It provides for a board of three members to administer rural credits. These members would be appointed by the governor for three year terms at a salary of $4,500 a year each.

The senate today passed a bill to raise $70,000 to pay volunteer forest fire fighters. It was passed under suspension of the rules. A companion measure providing for an appropriation of $60,000 to make up the deficiency in the forestry department was laid over without action. It was said this will be covered in an omnibus bill later.

Florida Has Longest Coast.

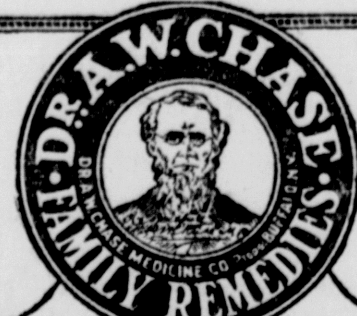

Florida has the longest coast line of any state—almost twelve hundred miles—more than half the distance between Chicago and San Francisco. California is second in this respect, with over one thousand miles of coast line. Some authorities are inclined to give the preference to California, there being so little difference between the coast lines of the two states.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Nickle Lenners, 705 5th St., S., Brainerd, says: "My kidneys caused me no end of trouble. I surely was in miserable condition as my back annoyed me so I could hardly get down. I had a steady, dull ache across the small of my back and if I got down, it was almost impossible to straighten again. I often got sharp catches in my kidneys and then dizzy spells would come on. I became tired and seemed to lose all my strength. I was annoyed by the way my kidneys were acting and finally my nerves became so miserable I was easily irritated. Someone told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at Johnson's Pharmacy. Doan's quickly helped me and soon cured me of all the kidney trouble."

Other Girls Had Dozens of Fellows—I Was a Wall Flower

My Cheeks Were Pale and Sallow, My Neck Scrawny, My Lips Colorless: Today I Am As Popular As Any of the Other Girls Because I Have Learned the Secret of Radiant Health and Beauty and Have a Well-Rounded Face and Figure.

Try making this slight change in YOUR MEALS for two weeks and watch for the astonishing results it so often gives.

For years I was so unattractive that I almost cried when I looked at myself in the mirror. Oh, how I envied other girls, whose dance cards were always filled and who were always popular and sought after by boys, who would not look at me twice. Just two weeks ago I read an article in the paper which told of a slight change in the daily diet which often changed women who had been thin, pale and unattractive, in some cases even for years, so that they got back that magnetic charm of radiant health. This article stated that the most important element in building a strong, beautiful body full of grace and magnetism with sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks was a peculiar form of iron found in the husks of grain and the peels and skins of certain fruits and vegetables.

But modern methods of cooking throw these important things away so that probably 19 people out of 20 lack 100% in their blood. I tried mixing a little of iron in this peculiar form of iron with my meals for two weeks. I feel and look years younger, with natural color in my lips and cheeks.

The above is a typical hypothetical case. It would seem that every woman whose attractiveness is impaired by lack of that magnetic charm that comes only with radiant health, would try adding a little of this newer form of iron to her daily food. It is comparatively inexpensive and may be obtained from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron, which should be mixed with your food as directed on each package. Amazing results are often secured in only two weeks time. For sale by all druggists including Johnson's Pharmacy.

To Rebuild Normal Schools

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—The state senate today passed a bill providing and raising $1,054,000 to rebuild the state normal schools at Mankato and Winona. Both were completely destroyed by fire last year.

New Rural Credits Bill

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—A new rural credits bill was introduced in the senate today by Senator J. E. Diesen.

The bill is designed to substitute other bills now before the legislature. It provides for a board of three members to administer rural credits. These members would be appointed by the governor for three year terms at a salary of $4,500 a year each.

The senate today passed a bill to raise $70,000 to pay volunteer forest fire fighters. It was passed under suspension of the rules. A companion measure providing for an appropriation of $60,000 to make up the deficiency in the forestry department was laid over without action. It was said this will be covered in an omnibus bill later.

Farmer Has Terrible Experience

"I don't think anybody ever suffered more pain than I have. Twice I was operated for gall stones and a third operation was advised. A friend in Iowa wrote me how he was cured by taking May's Wonderful Remedy. I took a bottle on his advice with good results and have also taken the full course. My pains are all gone and I feel I am permanently cured." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. SQUIRE EDGE GATE—A New Angle

Florida Has Longest Coast.

Florida has the longest coast line of any state—almost twelve hundred miles—more than half the distance between Chicago and San Francisco. California is second in this respect, with over one thousand miles of coast line. Some authorities are inclined to give the preference to California, there being so little difference between the coast lines of the two states.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. Nickel Lenners, 705 5th St., S., Brainerd, says: "My kidneys caused me no end of trouble. I surely was in miserable condition as my back annoyed me so I could hardly get down. I had a steady, dull ache across the small of my back and if I got down, it was almost impossible to straighten again. I often got sharp catches in my kidneys and then dizzy spells would come on. I became tired and seemed to lose all my strength. I was annoyed by the way my kidneys were acting and finally my nerves became so miserable I was easily irritated. Someone told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at Johnson's Pharmacy. Doan's quickly helped me and soon cured me of all the kidney trouble." 60c. at all dealers. Indigestion Unchecked Leads to Poisoning!

If you suffer from indigestion it is a sure sign that your system is being slowly poisoned by the fermentation in the intestines. This condition produces heartburn, choking sensations in the chest, a feeling of heaviness or drowsiness, irritability, discouragement and despondency. These symptoms call for Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills, which, taken in time, will offset the poison in the system. Read what one former sufferer has to say:

Mrs. Lottie J. Dewitt, No. 107 Front St., Port Jervis, New York, writes: "I am glad to say your Medicine is wonderful. For over three years I had kidney and bladder trouble and a tired worn out feeling and I spent hundreds of dollars for treatments and I failed to get any relief."

"When I saw your address in the paper I sent and got Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills and today I feel like a new person."

Other Girls Had Dozens of Fellows—I Was a Wall Flower

My Cheeks Were Pale and Sallow, My Neck Scrawny, My Lips Colorless: Today I Am As Popular As Any of the Other Girls Because I Have Learned the Secret of Radiant Health and Beauty and Have a Well-Rounded Face and Figure.

Try making this slight change in YOUR MEALS for two weeks and watch for the astonishing results it so often gives.

For years I was so unattractive that I almost cried when I looked at myself in the mirror. Oh, how I envied other girls, whose dance cards were always filled and who were always popular and sought after by boys, who would not look at me twice. Just two weeks ago I read an article in the paper which told of a slight change in the daily diet which often changed women who had been thin, pale and unattractive, in some cases even for years, so that they got back that magnetic charm of radiant health. This article stated that the most important element in building a strong, beautiful body full of grace and magnetism with sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks was a peculiar form of iron found in the husks of grain and the peels and skins of certain fruits and vegetables.

But modern methods of cooking throw these important things away so that probably 19 people out of 20 lack 100% in their blood. I tried mixing a little of iron in this peculiar form of iron with my meals for two weeks. I feel and look years younger, with natural color in my lips and cheeks.

The above is a typical hypothetical case. It would seem that every woman whose attractiveness is impaired by lack of that magnetic charm that comes only with radiant health, would try adding a little of this newer form of iron to her daily food. It is comparatively inexpensive and may be obtained from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron, which should be mixed with your food as directed on each package. Amazing results are often secured in only two weeks' time. For sale by all druggists including Johnson's Pharmacy.
